ECONOMICALLY DIVERSE NEIGHBOURHOOD

with existing government and communal support structures, established businesses and cultural venues

social-economic challenges

INTERVENTION

'improvement' policies to increase neighbourhood status, attract business and investment

LACK OF

lack of intentional regulation or protection exposes neighbourhood to free market dynamics

PROPERTY PRICES INCREASE (RENT AND OWNERSHIP)

rich new residents move in previous residents can no longer afford to move within neighbourhood

new businesses and cultural venues emerge to service new rich residents; previously existing businesses cannot compete and/or are stigmatised previous residents can no longer participate in expensive, increasingly privatised public space and move out government support and protection no longer deemed necessary due to self-sufficiency of rich residents

DECREASE IN DIFFERENTIATED SOLIDARITY

DISRUPTION OF PRE-EXISTING COMMUNITIES

ECONOMICALLY HOMOGENOUS NEIGHBOURHOOD

no government or communal support structures
increased susceptibility to far-right narratives among former and new residents

"too many single-family homes for too few families"

Leegstand en waardedaling dreigt voor eengezinswoningen, waarschuwt ABN Amro

Nu al zijn er twee keer zoveel eengezinswoningen als gezinnen met minimaal twee volwassenen en één kind.
